Old Traditional Open Pollinated - No Hybrids or GMOs - No Chemical Treatment

Dear Gardeners,

Thank-you for supporting the use of the old traditional open pollinated vegetable varieties. Seed from the plants you grow can be collected and distributed to others for future gardening.

After the unprecedented volume of orders this autumn we are back to our usual service of next day dispatch for orders of home gardener packets. We regret the inconvenience caused by previous delays.

Our aim is to distribute Old Traditional Open pollinated varieties of vegetable seed, preferably old Australian varieties and organically or bio-dynamically grown where possible.

I believe they are more nutritious and better tasting, hardy and easier to grow for the home gardener. Old varieties produce over an extended period. Home gardeners obtain relaxation, enjoyment and quality from a most rewarding hobby.

Eden Seeds was founded on the belief that home gardeners and all consumers should have access to the best old traditional varieties. I believe the best seed banks are the plants grown in our own back-yard. Growers need to observe the plants growing locally and experience collecting, drying, cleaning, storing and regrowing.

Who can access giant seed banks owned by our government departments and multi-national companies? If I can't and you can't then let's provide our own alternative.

Grow and distribute to others. My aim is to help get you started. Eden Seeds and Select Organic also purchase reliable seeds in small or large quantities. Reliable means they have not been crossed and are true to type. So if you are not sure please contact us for clarification. I thank all existing growers also for their efforts in trying times.

For home gardeners our catalogue offers the widest range of old traditional varieties available in Australia. There are over 1000 listings, 600 more than most other mail order lists. We specialize in the gathering, cleaning, best practice storage, distribution and service with 34 years experience in distribution of these endangered vegetable varieties. Our business is seeds.

Grow well, Alf Finch.

Greetings from the staff at Eden Seeds

The Safe Seed Pledge

Eden Seeds has signed this international pledge drafted by the Council For Responsible Genetics:

"Agriculture and seeds provide the basis upon which our lives depend. We must protect this foundation as a safe and genetically stable source for future generations. For the benefit of all farmers, gardeners and consumers who want an alternative,

We pledge that we do not knowingly buy or sell genetically engineered seeds or plants.

The mechanical transfer of genetic material outside of natural reproductive methods and between genera, families or kingdoms, poses great biological risks as well as economic, political, and cultural threats. We feel that genetically engineered varieties have been insufficiently tested prior to public release. More research and testing is necessary to further assess the potential risks of genetically engineered seeds. Further, we wish to support agricultural progress that leads to healthier soils, genetically diverse agricultural ecosystems and ultimately healthy people and communities."

Whilst open pollinated sweet corn is recorded as having significantly higher mineral and protein content (see ECO FARM page 38 - Charles Walters) and are tasty : they are not as sweet as the sickly sweet hybrid supermarket varieties of today. Very heavy feeder. Requires good soaking in dry weather. Grow as Maize and harvest as soon as silks turn brown. INOCULANT

The inoculant is a dormant, beneficial, symbiotic bacteria which helps the plant obtain nitrogen from the air (in the soil). Keep unused inoculant under refrigeration as it is to be kept in a dormant state until sown. (We cannot send to W.A.)

(We cannot send to W.A.)

5g $4.00, 50g $15.00

Rate: 5g inoculant for up to 1kg seed.

50g inoculant for up to 25kg seed.

HOW TO APPLY INOCULANT TO THE SEED

- [1]. Place seed in a container (say a bucket).
- [2]. Add inoculant and some powdered milk (dry) as a sticking agent and medium for the bacteria to break its dormancy and be ready for the emerging plant. Stir well.
- [3]. Add enough water to wet the seed but no surplus water. Stir well.
- [4]. Wash your hands (you will see how effective the milk powder is as a sticker as it will harden on your hands if you leave it).
- [5]. Broadcast and rake in seed.

GREEN MANURE MIX

It is enough to cut green manures as they flower though they can also be cultivated into the top 5cm (2 inches) of soil. As part of the rotation they help build up organic matter and the rotation can be used to control weeds. Stir well before broadcasting into a newly cultivated soil. The mix may vary a little depending on availability. Our aim is to make available as many reasonably priced legumes, grains, vegetables and herbs as possible. Not all mature together, but that's o.k. dig them in anyway and leave them one month before planting time. 400g covers approximately 80sq m. 1kg covers approximately 250sq m. 5kg covers approximately 1250sq m. No Inoculant is supplied with the Green Manure Mixes. (We cannot send any Green Manure Mix to Western Australia or Tasmania).

PLEASE NOTE:

Green Manure Mix varieties are only available in each current season (eg: we don't sell 'Spring/Summer GM Mix' during Autumn).

MOUNT SYLVIA DIATOMACEOUS EARTH

ABSORBACIDE

A finely powdered diatomite dust used for insect pest control and registered for use in grain storage.

Absorbacide is not prepared for human consumption.

Made of crushed silica formed by siliceous fossils of plant algae.

Registered with the Australian Veterinary and Pesticides Authority for use against insect pest of stored grain and legumes and is registered as an allowable input for organic farms by ACO.

As Absorbacide is a mechanical treatment and not a chemical one, it is ideal for integrated pest management regimes.

Take care not to let Absorbacide get into waterways as it is also damaging to dam and creek life.

SAFE INSECTICIDE - ULTRA FINE DIATOMITE (15 MICRON)

For home and garden use. Insects and their eggs are killed by the silica absorbing oils and waxes from the insects outer layer thus facilitating moisture loss and death by dehydration. The fine particles also abrade the exoskeleton causing physical disintegration.

Effective against aphids, caterpillars, borers, weevils, ants, earwigs, moths, snails, slugs, cockroaches, beetles, ticks, fleas, flies, lice, and silverfish.

Research on many aspects of use is going on including against bed bugs and head lice. 4kg $36.00

ANIMAL FOOD GRADE - DIATOMITE FINES (0.6mm)

Feed supplement to be mixed with animal feed against internal parasites for animals including; sheep, goats, cows, cattle, poultry, horses, dogs and cats.

Used against poultry pest lice and mites at a rate of 100g per square metre and in dust baths. 4kg $20.00, 15kg $49.00

LEGUMES / GREEN MANURES / GRAINS

It is enough to cut green manures as they flower though they can also be cultivated into the top 5cm (2 inches) of soil. As part of the rotation they help build up organic matter and the rotation can be used to control weeds and break the cycle of pests and disease.

If one is available an inoculant is enclosed with the seed in a small plastic envelope. This is to be mixed through the seed before it is sown. As it is a dry powder it is best to use a "sticker" to ensure that every seed has a little on it. A good "sticker" is milk powder. So mix a little milk powder with the inoculant and seed. Add a tiny bit of water but not enough to leave any surplus in the mixing container or the mix will not stick very well. Your hand will be sticky too but it scrubs off easily.

The inoculant is a dormant, beneficial, symbiotic bacteria which helps the plant obtain nitrogen from the air (in the soil). The plants will grow successfully without the inoculant however. Keep unused inoculant under refrigeration as it is to be kept in a dormant state until sown.

TREES - CAROB (Ceratonia siliqua) - Multi-purpose tree crop. The St. John's Bread of old. Alternative to chocolate. Excellent fodder. Good on marginal soils, suited to dry alkaline situations. Used in soil erosion. Has deep taproot. Scarify seed. Can be eaten as a dried pod and is now a popular powdered drink as a coffee substitute or chocolate alternative. When John the Baptist lived in the wilderness he ate honey and locust which we now know as carob. So the tree is a hardy long lived medium sized tree. One male tree is needed for about each eight free trees so if planting carob seed you will be able to thin out plants once they are mature. To plant seeds they are best scarified by filing the coat until the white seed inside shows or using the hot water treatment and soaking overnight before planting. Plant seeds in a deep pot as a long tap root will develop and plant out before it is 100mm high or use a deep planter bag to allow larger growth. The tree is good in an orchard situation or wind break. The pods will be much loved as a stock feed but protect the tree whilst it is small. The tree likes a well drained soil and will even do well on rocky slopes. Carobs large round leaves have made it a desirable street planting in my home town of Kyabram in northern Victoria and in the main street of Murgon in Queensland. Trees may take 7 years to mature. Eden Seeds Towards Self-Sufficiency Seed Collection

Two years seed supply

The more we take responsibility for our own food the less prone we will be to natural or technological disasters. Start now to grow some of your food and learn to save seeds and exchange them.

A lifetime garden can result

A cottage garden, even a window box, keeps growers in touch with nature. It is self empowering. Eat what is in season and preserve surplus and exchange with friends and neighbours.

Wouldn't it be good if there was no longer any need for Eden Seeds to be concerned about our endangered food heritage?

The following seed is included in the Towards Self Sufficiency collection, the variety selection is our choice:
